OfficeMax Retail ConnectSM Program

Take your company's special savings to our stores.

It happens every day. The office can't wait for toner to be delivered. They're short on binders the night before the big presentation. They're on the road. It's an emergency. It's the weekend. So they get in the car, drive to an office supply store, and get the supplies they need.

They're buying off contract. The savings you negotiated for their supplies are gone. And it's not a nickel and dime problem. Typically, up to 50% of a company's office supply purchases are off-contract, costing an average of 18% more than negotiated prices.

But with OfficeMax, there's now an easy and reliable way for your employees to buy the office supplies they need, when they need them — at negotiated contract prices.

The savings of OfficeMax contract prices. The convenience of OfficeMax stores.

With the OfficeMax Retail ConnectSM card, your employees receive your negotiated contract pricing on items purchased at any OfficeMax retail location — with no program fees or costs.

- Leverage the convenience of nearly 1,000 OfficeMax stores nationwide
- Meet immediate emergency or weekend office supply needs
- Give remote offices and home-office end users easy access to office supplies
- Receive contract prices on the spot, displayed at the register and on the receipt
- Track your total retail spend for future planning

Negotiated savings are in the cards.

Take contract pricing to the store. When employees reach the checkout counter, they simply hand their OfficeMax Retail ConnectSM card to the checkout cashier.

Your contract is on the card. On the back of the card (or on a special sticker attached to your company ID or credit card) is a bar code that, when scanned or entered manually at the checkout counter, pulls up your specific contract pricing.

The savings are instant: right at the register, right on your receipt.

All items included in your contract are automatically priced at your contract price, and are displayed on the register. If an employee doesn't know what SKUs are covered, they can take their items to the cashier, and a swipe of a scanner identifies which are covered.

Pay at the register...or by invoice. You can pay by check, credit card, or, with the Retail ConnectSM invoice option, add the purchases to your regular OfficeMax contract invoice.

Get your cards into the right hands. You can order, distribute and track your cards at the company level, department level, or down to the individual.
